Beware Of Scams

Cybercriminals are hard at work exploiting our natural anxiety about the evolving coronavirus situation. Look out for suspicious email and text messages that may impersonate a company, charity, or government agency. The intent is to convince you to share sensitive information. Remember, we will never reach out to you, via phone or email, and ask for confidential information such as your name, password, personal identification number (PIN) or other account information.

Let us know if you need additional assistance.

CALL US at 706-342-1953. We understand these times can be challenging, and we are here to help—If you have been negatively impacted by illness due to coronavirus, and need additional assistance related to your account, please contact us and let us know.

As new developments emerge regarding the coronavirus, we will continue to share information about how we continue to operate safely and effectively within our institution. Our customers and employees are our top priority and we appreciate your business.
